V. F. W. Christmas Boxes Net $50.00 To Vets' Christmas

Donations to the Sequoit post V. F. W. collection boxes placed in local business houses for providing gifts for disabled veterans netted more than fifty dollars, according to members of the post who were in charge of the collection.

The money was used for the purchase of cigarettes and entertainment for the disabled men who are in Downey hospital. This is an annual affair of the post and a part of the service to veterans work conducted.

Slick Roads Cause Many Minor Crashes

A warning to all motorists was issued by the state police department at Elgin early this week, warning of slippery conditions on all roads in northern Illinois.

A misty rain which fell Tuesday a. m. rapidly turning to ice on the streets and roads make highways almost impossible to drive on. Tuesday at noon a good many trucks and automobiles were stalled on north Main street, unable to make the slight grade to the north and to the south near the scout home. A few cars which had been stopped on south Main street were also unable to proceed south up the slight grade.

The extremely slippery roads were somewhat improved as the afternoon wore on, the weather became slightly warmer and the ice melted, making the roads more safe. Although an improvement was noted here, roads to the south and west were in very poor condition. Despite the conditions, no serious accidents were recorded, with damage being limited to bent fenders and other slight damage.

Wm. G. Walk, Fox Lake, Dies Xmas Eve in Waukegan

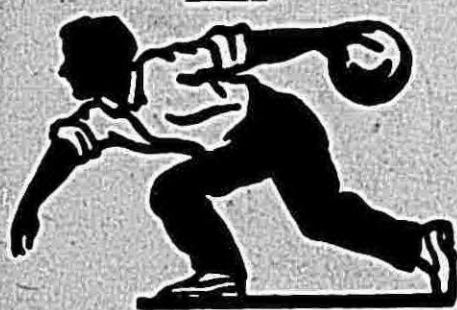

William G. Walk, well-known resident of Fox Lake for many years, passed away Christmas Eve, Dec. 24, at St. Therese hospital, Waukegan, where he had been taken following a brief illness.

He was Assistant Fire chief of the Fox Lake department, and had been an active and supporting member of the organization for the past twenty-five years. He was a member of the Lake County firemen's Association.

At the time of his death he was employed by Abbott Laboratories, North Chicago.

Funeral services were held on Wednesday at the Trinity Evangelical Lutheran church, of Long Lake, and were conducted by the Rev. Owen Gangstead. He was buried in his fireman's uniform and members of the fire department acted as pallbearers. Interment was in East Fox Lake Cemetery.

Bowling

George Miller again led the Wednesday night bowling league with a 616 series. The total was attained on games of 188-196, 232. Miller's Insurance, was also high for the night with games of 803, 839, 952 for a 2594 series. This series is high for the season, the former high being 2424 with Golden Glo and the VFW formerly being tied for the honor.

Willard Schneider was second high with a 573 total and F. Lentz shot a 224 game.

Thursday League
High individual scorer for last Thursday was Clarence King who shot a very creditable 568 on games of 206, 165 and 197. Second high was Dick Seyfarth with 561. Dick also had high game for the evening with 222. J. Russo was second high in the single game division with 314.

High team for the night was the Salem Business men with 878-903-844 for a total 2637 total.

Ice Fishermen May Use Only Temporary Shelters; 5 by 5 ft.

Livingston E. Osborne, state director of conservation, today reminded fishermen that the Illinois fish code permits the use of a temporary shelter on the ice.

The shelter must be temporary and removed at the end of each fishing day. The law permits a windbreak not to exceed five feet square, constructed of wood and canvas. Ice fishermen in the northern zone can anticipate a catch of northern pike, as well as the regular summer fare of panfish. In other zones, the catch will be limited to panfish in most cases, as many other varieties of fish are comparatively inactive during the winter months.

Recommended baits are minnows and worms, these being most readily available. However, old-timers among the mid-winter anglers swear by grubs gathered from milkweed galls and similar unusual baits. Ardent advocates of artificial lures are also common. Specially designed flies and lures for ice fishing are available.

The 1948 state fishing licenses do not expire until January 31, 1949.

Clarence W. Anderson Dies Suddenly of Heart Attack Friday

Clarence W. Anderson, 53, died suddenly of a heart attack, December 24, at his home in Fox Lake.

Survivors are his wife, Margaret, and one son, of California. Following an inquest, held at the Fox Lake Funeral home, in Fox Lake, his body was taken to Oglesby, Illinois, where funeral services were held. Interment was in Oglesby.

Methodist Church To Have New Organ

Decision to place an order for a new Wurlitzer organ was made at a meeting of the Organ committee of the Methodist church at a meeting held Sunday.

The organ committee, which has been working on the purchase of the new organ for approximately a year, had first placed an order for a pipe organ. The organ was to have been installed in the church some months ago, and finally, tiring of the long delay, the committee took action to purchase the portable Wurlitzer organ.

It is expected that early delivery of the organ will be effected, as the company has been pursuing a vigorous selling campaign, and has assured prompt delivery.

Notes For Sportsmen

The Game Management Division suggests that Sportsmen's Clubs can solve the Christmas tree disposal problem and at the same time do a real service to wildlife. Clubs can plan now to collect old Christmas trees after the holidays. These trees stacked in fence corners and ravines will make ideal shelter for pheasants, quail, and rabbits. Some of the trees can be decorated with food, suet, ear corn, and similar tidbits, and act as feeding stations for the birds.

Sportsmen are reminded that December 29 marks the end of the legal storage period for doves bagged during the September open season. Under the Federal Migratory bird regulations migratory birds may not be kept in possession for more than 90 days after the close of the season. The possession limit on doves this year was 10.

Reports from conservation officers indicate that rabbit hunting throughout Illinois has been spotty. Adjacent counties report bags ranging from poor to good.

Conservation Department biologists says that this season may be a lean one for rabbit hunters in some localities, especially where an abundance of cover makes the cottontail hard to find.

Although there is an apparent shortage in some sections, rabbit hunters who have a good hunting dog will find a day spent in the field produces game on the table.

Sportsmen and bird lovers are urged to set up feeding stations in regions where severe weather threatens to cut off the food supply of game and song birds. Sheltered "bird cafeterias" placed where they can be readily visited by the birds will carry them over until their normal food supply becomes available.

The hunting season need not be accompanied by an increase in tularemia cases. The health department has urged hunters to observe a few simple precautions: Don't shoot a rabbit (or any game bird or animal) that acts listless. Wear rubber gloves when skinning game. Cook all wild game thoroughly.

Early Birds For Ice Yachting Get Icy Bath Sunday

Three persons who were "rushing the season" somewhat last Sunday, by taking out on Fox Lake in ice yachts were treated to an icy bath when the ice collapsed, lowering them in to the cold, cold waters.

The ice boats with their occupants were out toward the middle of the lake when the accident happened, and were rescued by members of the Fox Lake rescue squad and fire department. No harm was done any of them, but one the ice yachts still remains frozen in the ice at the scene.

Two Lake Towns To Get New Banks

Fox Lake and Round Lake will each have a banking house in the near future, if plans of two separate groups of promoters materialize.

In Fox Lake the move to provide a bank for the community is spearheaded by Mayor Arthur Amundsen, and is backed by officers of the Wauconda National bank. The bank officers from Wauconda will apply for permission to open the bank within the next few days.

Tentative plans place the capitalization of the bank at $80,000, and stock in the bank, which will be a national bank, will be offered for sale to residents of the community. Stock which is not taken up will be purchased by the promoters.

In Round Lake much the same story is in effect, with the only difference that the bank will be capitalized for $50,000, and a group of Round Lake businessmen are behind the move to organize the bank. Since both communities are without a bank, it seems that much interest should be shown by residents of the two communities.

J. W. Emslie Services Held Monday

Funeral services for J. W. Emslie, Stanton Point, Ingleside, who passed away at a Garfield Park hospital, Dec. 27, were held Wednesday, Dec. 29, from the Marshall Chapel, 4817 West Chicago Ave. Burial was in Forest Home Cemetery. Survivors are his wife, Helen and three children, Donna, Jackie and Diane, and his mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. John Emslie, Sr., of Chicago.

William Monagan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Gibbs, has been commissioned a 1st Lieutenant. Lt. and Mrs. Monagan are living in a quonset hut on the Campus of Kerio University, near Yakoma. In a letter recently received by the Lieutenant's grandmother, Mrs. Mary Willic, he stated that Don Heath, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Heath, of Antioch, had Christmas dinner with them.

Seal Sale Reaches 70% Quota in Co.

"Returns from the 1948 Christmas Seal Sale totaled $29,478.04 on Christmas Day," Mrs. Mabel McCullough, Seal Sale Chairman for the Lake County Tuberculosis Association announced today. "This sum represents 70 per cent of the quota of $42,000.00 which is the minimum necessary to carry out the 1949 tuberculosis prevention and control program of the association," Mrs. McCullough explained. "Although the Seal Sale officially closed on December 25, the work of the Lake County Tuberculosis Association is a year round project," she added, "and funds received after Christmas are just as welcome and helpful as those received during the holiday season."

"We know that many county residents have delayed answering their Seal Sale letters because they have been busy with other Christmas preparations, but we urge all who have not yet responded to get their contributions in the mail at their earliest convenience."

"We are sincerely grateful to everyone who has answered our appeal. Their prompt response means that they want the activities of the tuberculosis association to continue, since the association received its sole support from the sale of Christmas Seals."

YOUR INCOME TAX

by John T. Jarecki, Collector of Internal Revenue for the First District of Illinois

Article No. 2
Where Income Tax Forms Can Be Procured and Assistance Obtained
The office of the Collector of Internal Revenue for the First District of Illinois, comprising the northern twenty-six counties of Illinois, is desirous of giving the taxpayers every possible assistance in preparing and filing their income tax returns.

For this purpose, in addition to the main office in Chicago at the U. S. Courthouse Building, Dearborn and Jackson Streets, branch offices are maintained at strategic points in Chicago as well as in most of the country towns.

Each office is manned by a staff of deputy collectors, who are well qualified to help you with your income tax problems.

Why not make a note of the address of the office most conveniently located for your purposes and make use of the facilities provided. The following offices are open from 8:30 a. m. to 5:15 p. m., Monday through Friday inclusive:
Waukegan, Old Post Office bldg., 325 Washington St., Waukegan, Ill.
Woodstock, 108 East Jackson St., Woodstock, Illinois
West, 6 North Hamlin Ave., Chicago 24, Ill.
North Central, 38 East Pearson St., Chicago 11, Ill.
Northeast, 4807 Sheridan Rd., Chicago 40, Illinois
Chicago 40, Illinois
Northwest, 3268 North Pulaski Rd., Chicago 41, Ill.

Zion Referendum Upholds Archaic, Sunday Blue Law

Old Laws To Be Enforced Prohibit Labor, Fun, Business

Old laws, some of them dating back fifty years, when Alexander Dowie was alive and the power in the community, will be enforced in Zion beginning Sunday.

The order by the city officials comes as a result of the failure of a proposition put to the voters in a special election, to liberalize the laws. Since the establishment of a bowling alley and theatre in Zion agitation for repeal of the laws has been the order of the day, with remains of the old guard upholding them and the newer residents of the community wishing to get rid of them.

Under a council interpretation of the laws, which Mayor Richard F. Hire instructed Chief of Police Alven Ruesch to enforce, Sunday trade, labor and entertainment will be illegal.

The law will:
Ban delivery or sale of milk, newspapers and groceries. Prohibit the sale of meals, ice cream or other refreshments for consumption off the store premises.

Forcing the closing of the theatre and bowling alley.

However, restaurants may sell meals to the public between 7:30 p. m. and 9 a. m., 11 a. m. and 2 p. m. gas stations can sell fuel and make minor emergency repairs.

The sale of drugs, medicines and medical supplies will be permitted. Taxicabs can continue operations. The status of organized outdoor sports still remained unsettled, Mayor Hire indicated.

Leaders of the movement for a repeal of the blue laws spearheaded the drive for strict enforcement after they were defeated in the referendum. Strict enforcement they contend, might cause residents to reconsider their stand on the law at some later referendum.

The blue laws go back to 1901, when the city was founded by Overseer John Alexander Dowie as the home of the Christian Catholic Apostolic church. They were rigidly enforced by him and his successor, the late Wilbur Glenn Voliva, who preached that the world is flat. Since Voliva's death in 1942, enforcement has slackened.

Mrs. Lottie Loomis Is Taken by Death

Lottie Loomis, 69, life time resident of Antioch community, passed away in Chicago Sunday, December 26, following several months of illness.

Funeral services were held at 1:30 Wednesday from the Roger Chapel, 5525 North Clark Street, Chicago. Following cremation, burial will be in Hickory cemetery.

State Will Spend $197,000,000 In Road Building, Upkeep

State highway officials last week proposed to spend $197,000,000 in road construction and maintenance during the two fiscal years beginning July 1.

The total, which includes a large share of federal funds, represents an 80 per cent increase over the current two-year allotment.

Highway officials who handled the request to the state budgetary commission said $167,000,000 was earmarked for new construction. Of this amount, the federal government is expected to furnish $89,000,000.

The remaining $30,000,000 in the budget was set up for maintenance. The highway division gets its money from federal aid, state motor fuel taxes and automobile license collections.

Present Unemployment Is Expected to be Temporary

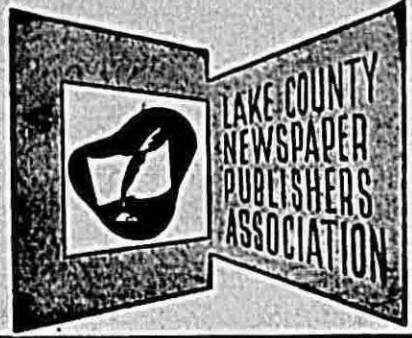

According to Henry Farber, in charge of the local re-employment office, located in Woodstock, unemployment has almost trebled during the last few weeks. However, it is expected that the situation will probably return to near normal after the first of the year due to the fact that 90 per cent of the workers are from factories who have a seasonal layoff at this time of year. The rest are for the most part, construction workers.

Of the 350 unemployed in the present time, 70 percent are women.

World Must Have Oil

World demand for oil and oil products is now at an all-time peak. And, if a study prepared by economists of one of our leading oil companies proves correct, demand will continue to increase at a rapid rate.

In 1938, world oil consumption, excluding the Soviet Union and the United States, was 1,900,000 barrels a day. This year it is 2,700,000. By 1950, the study forecasts, it will reach 3,200,000 barrels daily, and by 1960, it will touch 4,500,000—an increase of 67 per cent over the present.

The United States alone—figures are not available on the Soviet Union—is now consuming about 5,400,000 barrels each day. By 1960, it is expected that demand will rise to 6,800,000—an increase of 28 percent.

It is manifestly impossible to supply world demand from oil resources within this country. The major part of the European demand must be supplied from other regions. That is why American capital and American knowhow are now developing foreign sources of oil as rapidly as conditions permit. The great development in Saudi Arabia, which is being undertaken by a group of American companies, is the best known example. The cost will be enormous. Problem after problem of weather, terrain, supplies, etc., must be met and solved. But the world must have oil.

Recipe for Merchandising Success

At the recent Boston Conference on Distribution, President Truman sent a message asking for the "lowest prices attainable through economical operation and reasonable profit ratios." Commenting on this, a bulletin of a large retailing association, made up of both chain and independent stores in the dry goods field, said: "With this belief of the President, no responsible retailer could disagree, for merchandising success is built upon economical operations at reasonable profits."

The best evidence concerning present-day retailing policy is found in the mass of testimony given before the Congressional subcommittees which recently held hearings on the price problem in a number of key cities in every section of the country. Absolutely no instances of profiteering of "all the traffic will bear" policies by retailers were unearthed. To the contrary, it was found, time after time, that retailing is doing a fine job under extremely tough conditions and has often voluntarily shaved profits to new lows. And evidence to that effect did not come solely from retailers themselves. Much of it came from spokesmen for labor unions, consumer groups, and others.

Retailing is doing everything it can to hold prices down—and some commodities in common use, despite the popular belief that everything has gone up, are cheaper now than a year ago. Retailing is also doing an important work in improving qualities of goods. The consumer has never been given finer service.

Short Step

The pattern for achieving socialization of medicine is well established—and some of the collectivists have clearly described it.

In 1942, for instance, the International Labor Organization, which is often an enthusiastic backer of left-wing causes, said: "Once the whole employed population, wives and children included, is brought within the scope of compulsory sickness insurance, the great majority of doctors, dentists, nurses, and hospitals find themselves engaged in the insurance medical service, which squeezes out most of the private practice on the one hand, and most of the medical care hitherto given by the public assistance authorities on the other. The next step to a single national medical service is a short one . . ."

What this means is that compulsory sickness insurance would force us into socialized medicine, regardless of whether the people liked it or not, because there would be no other way to go. There is every reason to believe that would be the end result of measures now proposed in this country, of which the Wagner-Murray-Dingell bill is best known. They would give the bureaucrats such sweeping controls over the practice of medicine, and they would constitute so heavy a drain on the financial resources of the workers covered, that socialization would eventually be unavoidable. And that, in the view of the best authorities, would result in the swift deterioration of our standards of medical care and the public health in general.

Clean House At Home

"Leaving aside the admitted demoralization of the British Empire under socialism," said the News, of Parkersburg, West Virginia, in a recent editorial, "are we honestly in a position to be critical when our own government is doing some of the same things here at home? Take the electric industry. Government agencies have already eliminated private power companies almost entirely from Tennessee and Nebraska." The News then pointed out that other regions face the same danger.

That is a sound indictment of national policy as it has been applied to the power industry. It has cost the taxpayers of the United States hundreds of millions of dollars directly. It has cost many more millions indirectly, through loss of tax revenue that occurs when socialism supplants free enterprise. In a number of sections it has brought private power development to a complete stop—a fact which is solely responsible for whatever "power shortages" these sections may encounter this winter. It has made great states dependent on the politicians at Washington for an essential service, and governors and other high officials have gone, hat in hand, to beg for appropriations. It has taken us a considerable way toward the socialist goal of completely centralized, authoritarian government.

At the end of its editorial, the News said: "Shouldn't we take a look at what is happening in the United States before criticizing socialism abroad?" The answer to that is a resounding "yes!" Socialism of the electric industry would be but a prelude to socialization of finance, transportation, and all the other basic enterprises of the nation. It is the entering wedge to economic dictatorship—which is invariably accompanied by social dictatorship. This country must make its choice between free enterprise and socialism. It can't have them both.

HELLO FOLKS!

By Ray Cobb

Certainly hope the old bearded gent came around to see all of you people. He was mighty nice to me. So before I forget, I hope you had a very Merry Christmas.

The Legion sponsored a float with Santa Claus on it for three nights this past week. Santa talked to all the children on Main Street and gave them all candy and cookies.

Our members now total 219. For a perfect 100% membership we need 282 members. So all you Legion members, please try to contact at least one prospective member. Post 748 has always had a 100% membership so all of you fellows should get busy. We must have a perfect membership by December 31, 1948.

Our past theater party for the benefit of the Zemanek triplets was very successful. The proud parents deserve the good wishes of all of us and the Antioch Legion Post 748 stands ready to help them when needed.

The Legion Post has a good bowling team. They have shirts now signifying whom they represent, and we the Legion are pretty proud of them.

Sammy Klass, one of our younger members is in charge of the basketball team. Anyone interested in getting in the team should contact him.

Our "Legion Club" due to open soon, will open with a holiday dance sometime in February, we hope. We hope all of you people will come on down and join the fun. Our club will be open every night in the week, and its very chic to go to the Legion club.

The Antioch Post distributed several Christmas baskets. This is a wonderful thing, a worthy organization distributing food baskets to those who need them.

Our drum and bugle corps is still going strong. Bill Johnson is still interested in amateur talent, so please contact him if you are interested.

LAKE VILLA

Mrs. Frank Hamlin returned home last week after having spent a month with her daughter, Mrs. Bojan Jennings in New York City.

Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Tweed had their children and their families at home for turkey dinner last Saturday. They were Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Barnstable, Sr., and the Ervin Barnstable, Jr., with their son, Jimmy, the Joe Nader, Sr., Marlene Nader and the Joe Nader, Jr., and Penny Jo, Junior Tweed and Mrs. Hazel Sherwood, also Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Burnett and son, of Antioch.

Mr. and Mrs. Junior Tweed are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter, Marianne, at St. Therese hospital on Christmas Day.

Mrs. Paul Avery, Jr., who has been on a singing engagement in Milwaukee, spent Christmas Day at her home here and returned to her work in the afternoon of Christmas Day.

Mrs. Marjorie Simpson and daughters, of Kewanee, spent a few days last week with her mother, Mrs. Milligan and sister, Mrs. Ray Kerr, and husband.

Miss Laura Reinebach, of Chicago, was guest of her brother, Carl, and wife, also of the Gene Anderson family over Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Chris Anderson entertained their sister, Mrs. Wobel, and husband, of Chicago, on Christmas Day.

Many Wild Weeds Provide Ample Food In Dire Emergencies

ORLANDO, FLA.—So far as Nibokawa, the Wise Woodsman, is concerned, you can forget the high price of food in Florida—if you want to go back to nature.

Nibokawa is the name the Indians give naturalist and educator Oliver Perry Medsger, 78, whose writings, teachings and studies have made him nationally known among scientists.

One of his books is "Edible Wild Plants" and from it you learn that many weeds you thought only a nuisance can save you from starving. The May apple, he recommends highly.

It isn't a fruit or flower, leaf or root. It's just a growth found on the wild honeysuckle and yet Medsger says it is delicious raw or in salad, spiced or pickled.

There are the wild sweet potato; nut grass; and fruits of the cultivated palms. But he discourages use of the excellent palmetto bud because it kills the tree.

He says young bracken shoots can be cooked and dressed like asparagus, as can the tender shoots of pokeweed, chickweed, sorrel and milkweed.

The milkweed, he says, is another all-purpose edible. Its shoots can be used for greens, the unripe pods eaten like okra, and a course brown sugar may be made from the flowers.

Medsger says the Indians would have died without arrowroot which is common in the swamps. He also names a wide variety of wild fruits and berries and says:

"If worst comes to worst, we can always eat grass. All the grasses are perfectly wholesome and nutritious."

Brown Thrush Has Narrow Escapes In Noisy City

ATLANTA, GA.—City life was just too much for this unhappy, confused brown thrush.

The bird got caught in a whirl of traffic on busy Forsyth street. Fluttering under automobiles and trolleys, it caused a traffic jam. Horns blared and tires screamed.

Cheating death by inches, the bird finally reached the sidewalk. Dignified businessmen skittered about trying to catch the elusive thrush in their hats.

It darted into a hotel lobby, avoiding capture until it dropped from exhaustion.

Its captor put the bird in a box and said that he would take it back to the country.

Reporter in Russ Garb Tests Army's Security

ALISO CANYON, CALIF.—A self-styled Russian army colonel seized as he watched maneuvers of United States naval and marine units, was identified as a reporter planted by his newspaper "to test" security precautions at the war games.

The San Diego Journal said the man, who first identified himself to military police as a Russian army officer, was John d'Alfonso.

Brig. Gen. Omar T. Pfeiffer, chief of staff of the Camp Pendleton marine barracks, said the reporter would be turned over to the FBI because he had no credentials and was wearing the uniform of a foreign government.

Wearing a Russian uniform rented from a costume shop, D'Alfonso was picked up as he watched the large-scale maneuvers from a canyon side reserved for civilian spectators.

Podunk—Yes, There Is Such A Town—Wants Recognition

PODUNK, MASS.—Residents of Podunk have determined to let the world know that there really is such a community and that it is a nice place to live and has modern improvements.

Because lexicographers have ignored Podunk and newspaper men have bandied the name about in a jocular manner, folks here have decided to speak up.

President Robert S. Wakeman, of the Podunk community club, reported that plans were being made to invite lexicographers and newspapermen to a sightseeing tour and a dinner.

They'll have to travel five miles south of East Brookfield among the wooded Worcester county hills.

Bathtubs Are on Way Out As Showers Gain Popularity

CLEVELAND.—The sit-and-soak method of bathing is slowly joining the old wooden tub in front of the kitchen stove as a thing of the past, a survey of observers on the postwar bathing scene shows.

Blame it on the war, they said. The tub is going down the drain to make way for the shower.

"During the war, people got accustomed to taking showers," Charles Jauch, secretary of the Cleveland Builders Exchange, said. "There were no tubs on dreadnaughts or in barracks for the men in service. Priorities made it difficult for civilians to get tubs."

"People learned to prefer the speed and efficiency of showers."

Housing Shortage in 1800's
In the 1800's there was a type of folding bed sometimes known as a press bedstead or a cupboard bedstead. When not in use it was kept fastened upright in an alcove or cupboard in the wall, and when needed was tilted down into the room.

Canned Citrus Juice
Flavor of canned citrus juice can be made more like that of fresh juice by pouring the chilled juice back and forth from one glass to another just before serving. This puts back into the juice the air which was removed during the vacuum canning.

WARNING!
80% of all damaged parts are ruined by faulty or no lubrication!

We're not surprised... but we bet you are! We know the importance—especially in winter—of expert lubrication of not just the well-known trouble spots. There are 49 places on your car that need thorough lubrication, and our carefully-trained expert knows every one of 'em. Drive in tomorrow for that winter "lube" check. Let us keep your car in smooth, perfect running shape and it'll be like money in the bank for you... now, and when you trade her in for your beautiful new Chrysler!

"Buick's the Buy!"

EVER since this '49 Buick made its bow, we've been telling you it's a buy.

We've invited you to match it—feature by feature and dollar for dollar—with anything else offered to you. You can start with the delivered prices shown here.

But don't stop with that. Check the policy under which Buicks are sold—and see for yourself that Buick means a better deal as well as a better buy!

Briefly, our Four-Square sales policy is this:

1. NO PRICE PADDING! We guarantee our prices to contain nothing but charges that were standard practice in figuring prewar delivered prices. You receive an itemized bill of sale showing all charges. And we display our prices in our showroom.

2. NO "LOADING" OF UNWANTED ACCESSORIES. All cars are delivered with accessories as ordered. We pledge ourselves to add no "extras" you do not want.

3. NO COMPULSORY TRADE-INS. Selling used cars is part of our business. Naturally we like to take cars in trade. But you do not have to sell your car to us! We will take your order, and deliver your car, without requiring a car in trade!

4. NO COLLUSION WITH "GRAY MARKETEERS." We will not knowingly be party to a sale of Buick cars to any individual who operates in the "gray market." Our interest is entirely in delivering cars to bona fide customers.

In other words—you know exactly where you stand when you buy a Buick. What you get—what you pay—all the details of the deal open and aboveboard.

So we repeat: Check the price. Check the policy. Buick's the buy any way you want to look at it.

Housing Shortage in 1800s
In the 1800s there was a type of folding bed sometimes known as a press bedstead or a cupboard bedstead. When not in use it was kept fastened upright in an alcove or cupboard in the wall, and when needed was tilted down into the room.

Canned Citrus Juice
Flavor of canned citrus juice can be made more like that of fresh juice by pouring the chilled juice back and forth from one glass to another just before serving. This puts back into the juice the air which was removed during the vacuum canning.

WARNING!

80% of all damaged parts are ruined by faulty or no lubrication!

We're not surprised... but we bet you are! We know the importance—especially in winter—of expert lubrication of not just the well-known trouble spots. There are 49 places on your car that need thorough lubrication, and our carefully-trained expert knows every one of 'em. Drive in tomorrow for that winter "lube" check. Let us keep your car in smooth, perfect running shape and it'll be like money in the bank for you... now, and when you trade her in for your beautiful new Chrysler!

Tattoo on Dog's Leg Simplifies Identification

LOS ANGELES.—At least 500,000 heartaches a year will be saved dog lovers when "identacoding"—tattooing a dog's license number permanently on its leg—becomes a national practice.

The dog tattooing idea first was introduced in the K-9 corps, for positive identification of the canine rookies. It was first used on a civilian basis by H. Graham Conar, internationally known horseman and dog authority, in 1946, in a private dog club he organized in Los Angeles.

The idea received additional impetus when the national dog record bureau, a nonprofit corporation, was started, with Conar as president and James Schermerhorn Jr., former Detroit newspaperman, as vice-president.

Since its inception, the idea has received wide acclaim and acceptance from law enforcement agencies and anticruelty societies all over the nation, Conar claims. According to Alexander Tilley, general manager of the Los Angeles SPCA, and southern California humane society, identacoding will have wider applications than tattooing of pedigreed and valuable dogs.

Dogs Are Highly Prized
Many a mutt is so highly prized by a family, they would not consent to sell it for all the tea in China; yet a week is the longest such a mutt will live in a pound. After that, if unclaimed, it is gassed to make room for more hapless little waifs.

"Out of 20 dogs we get at the shelter," Tilley says, "only one is caught with a license tag. Out of 10 dogs, three may be claimed by owners. Out of the 16 remaining, another four may find new owners. The remaining 12 are destroyed. Multiply this number by the number of cities, hamlets and counties, and you get an appalling death toll."

Tilley estimates that 50,000 dogs are destroyed yearly in New York and 25,000 in Los Angeles alone. He thinks that 500,000 is a conservative figure for the number of unfortunate pets which die in the gas chamber every year.

Tags Are Missing
Another argument in favor of dog tattooing, Tilley says, are dog owners themselves. "In the 71 years of our SPCA work," he says, "most of them simply would not be educated to keeping the dog's license tag on him all the time. And usually it is the time when the license tag is off that the pet gets lost."

During the war, when the tags were made of soybean plastic, the dogs used to eat their tags like biscuits, and when caught without identification were just so much closer to the gas chamber.

To prevent dog records from being destroyed in a fire or other catastrophe, the master micro-filmed files are kept in a bank vault in Los Angeles and New York. At the moment the organization is administered from Los Angeles for the western region; from Kansas City for the central region; and from New York for the eastern region. Other offices are being licensed daily and there is even talk of the organization going international within a year, with offices in all principal cities of the world.

Notice to Anglers: New Scooterpoopers Lure Bass

GREENWOOD, S. C.—The day may come when a fisherman will remark to his companion, "You'd better change the record, the bass aren't hitting that one."

If it does, the credit would go to Alex Woodie, Greenwood's fishing jeweler, who has developed a noise-making lure that has proved popular with the local fish and fishermen.

Woodie has long worked on the theory that fish were attracted by certain noises. He made experiments in which he tried to incorporate noise-making qualities into his baits.

One of his first efforts contained the works of a watch. It caught fish, but it proved too expensive and too disposed to break down.

Now he has devised a hollow metal box that amplifies the sound of turning propellers on the bait. He calls it the scooterpooper. It makes a distinct whirring sound as it is retrieved, attracting all the bass within hearing distance.

Eccentric Recluse Wills Greta Garbo Big Tax Bill

ALLEGAN COUNTY, MICH.—Film Actress Greta Garbo will realize little if anything from an estate willed to her by an eccentric recluse, it appears.

A final account filed in probate court here of the American assets of the late Edgar Donne, Allegan county farmer, revealed $1,119 in claims and taxes of $2,000 due.

Approximately $19,000 in assets in England also probably will be wiped out by inheritance taxes, court officials believe.

Spokesmen for Miss Garbo said that whatever proceeds accrued from the estate of the 76-year-old Donne, who had never seen the actress, would go to charity.

Johnson Smeared Congress
In 1936, President Andrew Johnson said: "We have seen hanging upon the verge of the government, as it were, a body called, or which assumes to be, the congress of the United States." The people responded to this smear by electing a strong anti-Johnson congress, which two years later brought impeachment proceedings against the President.

If Birds Quit Laying

Although a positive diagnosis of Newcastle disease can be made only by laboratory tests, there is plenty of reason to suspect this malady if egg production in a flock dips sharply—nearly to zero. A veterinary bulletin points out that a drastic drop in egg production, whether due to Newcastle disease or some other type of trouble, should be a warning for poultrymen to get a prompt diagnosis and start corrective measures at once. If the trouble is actually Newcastle disease, respiratory and nervous symptoms usually will be evident.

Treatment for Ringworm

Recommended treatment for ringworm on cattle is to apply liniment of iodine to the affected parts. It should be used each day for several days in a row, but care should be taken not to get the iodine into the eyes of the animal. The herdsman, too, needs to be on guard against infection. The best way to do this is to wear gloves during the treatment.

Potato Goes to Britain

Regarding the introduction of the potato into Great Britain, the two legends more generally believed are those surrounding Raleigh and Drake. According to the first: So-lanum tuberosum, the common potato of our fields and gardens, was first introduced by Sir Walter Raleigh who brought the roots from Quito and caused them to be planted in his own garden at Youghal, Ireland.

Western Hemlock

Western hemlock is used largely in house construction for framing, sheathing and subfloors. Large quantities also go into siding, ceiling, flooring and shipplap. Other uses are sash, doors, blinds, general millwork and cross ties.

Sweet Potatoes

Sweet potatoes should be used within a week or so after they are purchased to be at their best. Like bananas, they should never be put in the refrigerator. They are so sensitive to cold that they may turn dark and become less appetizing if they are kept at a temperature as low as 40 F.

Smart Looking Collar

An important detail in making collars with a professional look is to trim the seam to a quarter-inch and clip off the corners after stitching around the edge.

'An Ingenious Man'

"He was an ingenious man that first found out eating and drinking," said old Jonathan Swift, whose wit was matched by a good appetite.

Paint-Catcher

A paper plate pasted beneath the paint can is a good paint-catcher. It's a handy place to rest the paint brush, too.

Use of Aspen

Because aspen possesses no natural durability, all aspen products used in contact with the soil decay rapidly, and such products as untreated aspen fence posts rarely last more than three to four years. When aspen is used for sills of buildings, bridge planking, and the lower logs of log cabins, where the products are not in contact with the soil but may become moist and remain moist for considerable periods, deterioration by decay may also develop rapidly.
